A NEW PERSPECTIVE

Overview

The natural turquoise lagoon and white powdery sands of magnificent Oro Bay border Le Méridien Ile des Pins. Located on the southern tip of New Caledonia, Ile des Pins is referred to as the "Jewel of the Pacific." Inspired by Melanesian architecture and culture, this luxury resort is built from a unique blend of Kuto timber and stone.

Secluded in a century-old coconut grove, the resort offers luxurious accommodations and a large open-style central pavilion featuring a guest lounge, billiard room, bar and restaurant that all overlook the pool and the turquoise lagoon.

Services

Le Méridien Ile des Pins allows you to explore the island in all its natural glory. Take a stroll or cycle through the stunning greenery and enjoy a picnic amidst lands unchanged since their formation. Rent a kayak or pedal-boat and glide peacefully through the bay. Go on a sightseeing tour and discover the secrets of an ancient culture and how they lived among such delightful beauty.

Rooms

Le Méridien Ile des Pins boasts 50 luxurious, spacious bungalows furnished with tropical-inspired beds and private terrace. Accented in soothing blues and warm cream tones, the bedrooms exemplify island chic. Views look out over the fragrant coconut trees or the shimmering turquoise lagoon of Oro Bay.

Le Méridien Ile des Pins - In a century-old coconut grove on the white sands of Oro Bay, discover a natural forest and pool, Melanesian culture, and pure relaxation.
